REVIEW

Month of the April came like a new challenge in our lives. Covid has again started making grip on the humanity and with every day we are loosing our loved ones. Repeated lack of medical facilities, oxygen cylinders, bed in the hospitals has created a havoc in our lives and people are in panic again.

Though present situation is very hard to face but can be handled with patience and discipline. Medical and para medical staff has again straighten their back and strengthen their morals to fight against covid and not just consultants, medical officers but students have also come forward to spread hope. Front liners at Parul Sevashram Hospital are working all day long to face the present situation bravely and efficiently. Homoeopathic faculty is nowhere less and our students and interns are imparting their services and sharing the load with the their seniors and colleagues. Not just this but faculty of homoeopathy has also started helpline number where people can call and get information regarding Covid, bed availability in hospital, oxygen cylinder availability and other.

With all this homoeopathic faculty is also trying best to impart good quality knowledge to the students with help of expert lectures, seminars, webinars though the classes are going online. To keep the interest of student up in studies, to lighten their stress in this stressful time and raise their awareness towards health and diet, homoeopathic faculty has conducted various events like, fitness sessions, cooking competition and celebrated world health day as well as world homoeopathy day too.

This month was not only about achievements but appreciation too. Our enthusiastic event coordinators were appreciated for their constant efforts to carry out all events with much coordination, creativity and discipline. We believe in togetherness and so homoeopathic faculty is working hard to overcome this tough time with a hope of better and safe future.

BE HERE, BE VIBRANT

COVID WARRIOR

COVID has created havoc in our lives and situation is testing us very hard. Our front liners are working all day long to handle this war bravely. We congratulate our homoeopathic faculty, especially our students who have been performing their internships in COVID wards at Parul Sevashram Hospital, Vadodara, for their constant selfless efforts in this tough situation.

With this homoeopathic faculty has also started the facility of helpline number for general queries regarding COVID 19, hospitalisation, Oxygen Cylinder availability suppliers and nearby diagnostic center's for COVID 19
