Lamp Lighting Ceremony:

The symposium commenced with the auspicious Lamp Lighting Ceremony, symbolizing the dispelling of darkness and the awakening of knowledge and wisdom. The dignitaries, faculty members, and PG scholars gathered to invoke divine blessings for the success of the academic event.

The ceremony was graced by the presence of the Principal, Dr. Hitarth Mehta , PG coordinator Dr.vani oza , faculty members and pg scholars. As the flame was lit, the environment was filled with a sense of reverence and dedication to the legacy of classical Homoeopathy and its holistic principles.

This traditional beginning served as a spiritual and academic inspiration for the sessions that followed, aligning the minds of students and teachers alike toward learning, healing, and service.

Introduction:

A clinical symposium was conducted at Rajkot Homoeopathic Medical College on 7th July 2025 with the core themes focused on two major domains in Homoeopathic therapeutics: respiratory disorders and cardiovascular health. The sessions were aimed at enhancing understanding of the homoeopathic materia medica through applied clinical experiences and repertorial interpretations, along with miasmatic considerations.

The event was organized under the academic guidance of the pg coordinator Dr. Vani oza and was actively attended by faculty members, PG scholars.

Session 1: Optimizing Cardiovascular Health with Homoeopathy

Session 2: Exploring the Depths of Homoeopathic Materia Medica in Respiratory Disorders

Presented by:

PG Scholars of Department of Materia Medica

Session Highlights:

This session focused on the clinical interpretation of respiratory conditions, especially:

- Dyspnoea (difficulty in breathing)
- Cyanosis (bluish discoloration due to hypoxia)
- Shock (circulatory and respiratory collapse)

The presentation covered:

- Basic understanding of respiratory physiology.
- Clinical features and types of dyspnoea and cyanosis.
- Classification and differentiation of types of shock.
- Rubric-based remedy differentiation without focusing only on drug names.
- Emphasis on integrating miasmatic background and totality of symptoms.
- Use of case examples and repertorial charts to explain practical application.

The session promoted clinical reasoning among students and helped bridge the gap between materia medica knowledge and real-life cases. Active participation and interaction followed the session, reflecting deep student engagement.

RAJKOT HOMOEOPATHIC MEDICAL COLLEGE

OBJECTIVE:

- To explore the role of Homoeopathic medicine in the prevention, management, and optimization of respiratory system
- To promote an integrative understanding of respiratory pathology, individual medicines their psycho- analysis, and the holistic principles of Homoeopathy.
- To encourage the use of individualized remedy selection, bed side clinical picture in respiratory disorders based on totality of symptoms.
- To discuss the scope and limitations of Homoeopathy in managing cardiovascular diseases in conjunction with lifestyle modifications.
- To highlight clinical experiences and case studies demonstrating the efficacy of Homoeopathy in cardiovascular care.
- To create awareness among students about the importance of early intervention and prevention strategies through Homoeopathy.
- Discussion of all the remedies through the syllabus of clinical materia medica

Conclusion

The symposium was an enriching academic experience that provided dual clinical perspectives on the therapeutic importance of homoeopathic materia medica. Both sessions highlighted the significance of individualization, holistic case analysis, and miasmatic understanding in patient care. Events like these foster a strong foundation in materia medica and stimulate critical thinking among budding homoeopaths. The active involvement of PG scholars like Dr. Nandini Goswami exemplified academic leadership and clinical clarity in presenting complex topics with simplicity and depth

Certificate Distribution Ceremony

The event concluded with a Certificate Distribution Ceremony, where all speakers and participants were acknowledged for their active involvement. Certificates of appreciation were handed over by principal and senior faculty members, encouraging students to continue their academic excellence and contribution to Homoeopathy.
