Why to Choose Parul University for MD (Hom).

The Faculty of Homoeopathy at Parul University Comprising four esteemed constituent colleges

- Ahmedabad Homoeopathic Medical College (AHMC) – Established in 1993 at the Ahmedabad campus
- Rajkot Homoeopathic Medical College (RHMC) – Established in 1996 at the Rajkot campus
- Jawaharlal Nehru Homoeopathic Medical College (JNHMC) – Established in 2003 at the Parul University campus
- Parul Institute of Homoeopathy and Research (PIHR) – Established in 2017 at the Parul University campus

Institutional Distinction and Accreditations

- Top-Ranked Homoeopathic Institutions: All four Homoeopathic colleges under the Faculty of Homoeopathy, Parul University, have been awarded A+ grade in the Institutional Ranking by NABET, as accredited by the National Commission for Homoeopathy (NCH) and the Quality Council of India (QCI).
- National Recognition: Parul University is recognized as India's youngest private university to achieve NAAC A++ accreditation in its first assessment cycle. The university encompasses a sprawling 250-acre green campus, housing 40+ institutes, serving over 60,000 students, including 4,000+ international learners.

Excellence in Education and Healthcare

- Academic Excellence: The institutions are equipped with highly qualified faculty, advanced medical facilities, and technology-integrated infrastructure, fostering a futuristic learning environment.
- NABH Accreditation: All teaching hospitals associated with the Homoeopathic colleges have maintained NABH accreditation since 2018, ensuring high standards of healthcare delivery.
- Comprehensive Clinical Training: MD (Hom) scholars benefit from a one-year house job, offering in-depth clinical exposure.
- Simulation-Based Learning: Each college has access to dedicated Skill Labs, in addition to advanced simulation training at the Pragya Simulation Centre, enhancing practical and diagnostic skills.

Innovation, Research, and Funding Support

- Cutting-edge Research Facilities: A strong emphasis on research empowers students to innovate, supported by government grants and institutional funding.
- Research Grants: The Research & Development Cell of the university offers grants of ₹10,000 to postgraduate scholars to encourage pioneering research and advanced studies.
- CCRH Collaborations:
 - A dedicated Research MoU with the Central Council for Research in Homoeopathy (CCRH) supports high-impact research.
 - All four constituent colleges have signed MoUs with CCRH for Linking Research with Education, bridging academic learning with clinical investigations.

Strategic Collaborations and Partnerships

- Academic Collaborations: Partnerships with reputed institutions such as Rajasthan Ayurved University (Jodhpur), Homoeopathy University (Jaipur), and Batra's Academy further enhance academic exchange and learning.
- Pharmaceutical Alliances: MoUs have been signed with key pharma leaders like Willmar Schwabe India Pvt. Ltd., ensuring industry-academia integration.
- Hospital Partnerships:
 - In-Campus Colleges (JNHMC & PIHR) are affiliated with Parul Sevashram Hospital, offering a wide range of high-end medical services like ICU, NICU, CATH lab, dialysis, advanced pathology, blood bank, CT & MRI.
 - Out-Campus Colleges (AHMC & RHMC) maintain MoUs with leading multi-specialty hospitals in their respective localities.

Dynamic Academic and Cultural Exposure

- Academic Enrichment: Frequent national and international seminars, symposia, workshops, and expert lectures enrich the academic experience and broaden the horizons of both students and faculty.
- Flagship Event Highlight: In November 2024, Parul University proudly hosted the All India Postgraduate Homoeopathic Seminar (AIPGHS 2024). The event featured renowned national and international figures in Homoeopathy, and provided students with invaluable opportunities for Oral and Poster Presentations, fostering professional development and research acumen.

Timely Completion of Postgraduate Programs: The University ensures timely completion of the MD (Hom) program by strictly adhering to a well-structured Academic Calendar in compliance with the National Commission for Homoeopathy (NCH) regulations.
